Engineered to withstand hurricane force winds and designed for the harsh environment of sun, sand and salt water.

Your customized lifeguard tower will be manufactured and prefabricated in our 6500 square foot production facility in Boynton Beach, Florida. We encourage out-of-town municipalities and non-government buyers (outside 100-mile radius) to send their lead supervisors to our shop during the final phases of construction so installation will be a seamless transition. We can also arrange for our expert heavy timber carpentry crews to manage or even completely assemble and install your towers.

Why choose lifeguard towers manufactured by Post & Beam? Post & Beam has an impressive track record of heavy duty lifeguard tower construction and installation in South Florida. We are the primary manufacturer of the iconic towers for the City of Miami Beach and the City of Delray Beach. We've successfully delivered over 40 lifeguard towers in just the last 2 years (as of 8-8-18). Our towers have been featured on newspaper front pages, won numerous awards for construction and engineering and most importantly have proven sturdy in hurricanes and well received by the lifeguards that man them.
